VIRGINIA AND THE BIG FAIR.

Resolutions Urging a Liberal Appropriation Adopted.

THE NAVAL RENDEZYOUS FEATURE.

It Will Add Greatly to the Prosperity of Virginia-The Association Meets With the Conventiton

Nonrolk, Va., Nov. 25,-[Special.]-The World's Fair Association convened in its secand day's session this morning. President J. H. Tyler in the chair. The report of the committee on officers and an executive committee was received and adopted as follows: Hon, J. H. Tyler, president; J. F. Dezendorf, vice-president; T. C. Morton, secretary; J. Taylor Eliyson, treasurer. Executive Committee-First district, Dr. Brockenborough; Second district, M. Glennan; Third district, Colonel A. S. Buford; Fourth district, Captain Frank Lassiter; Fifth district, Dr. Steigleman: Sixth district, W. M. Ellis; Seventh district, A. S. Waller, Fighth district, Captain P. P. Barbour, Tenth district, E. H. Catlett. The committee on by-laws, Dr. J. S. Apperson chairman, made a report, action upon which was deferred.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN.

Major Jed Hotchkiss, chairman of the committee on address and plan of co-operation, submitted a report, which was adopted. He thought it unnecessary to prepare an address at this time. The co-operative scheme provides for an organization in each of the counties and cities of the State for the purpose of securing funds and exhibits.

ties and cities of the State for the purpose of securing funds and exhibits.

No report was made by the committee on legislation, of which Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson is chairman, but, bearing upon the subject of legislation, the business committee submitted a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the General Assembly of Virginia to graut such an appropriation as the condition of the State finances may justify for making a Virginia exhibit at the coming Columbian Exposition, and declaring that $100,000 will be insufficient for that purpose. The resolution also asked that the countries and cities of the Commonwealth be urged to supplement the Commonwealth be urged to supplement the appropriations for the State by liberal do-nations from their own treasuries. NAVAL RENDEZVOUS.

The committee on naval rendezvous reported that the naval rendezvous feature of the Columbian Exposition in the spring of 1893 is one that will add greatly to the prosperity of Virginia and should command her hearty support. We urge, it said, our transportation companies to make such fayorable rates as will enable many thousands to witness a sight never before seen in this country. That in the selection of Hampton Roads as the harbor in which to shelter the combined fleets of the world, the genus that conceived the idea and those who secured it have shown their wisdom, and deserve the thanks ommittee on naval rendezvous reshown their wisdom, and deserve the thanks not only of Virginia, but of the entire country. We advise all the cities of the Chesn-peake to make extensive and ample prepara-tion for the care of the human tide that will inundate this section.

The report was adopted.

The Association being informed that Mr. Alex. B. Anderson, United States Special Commissioner, was in the city, he was invited to the hall and requested to address the Association upon the co-operative plan. Mr. Anderson thought well of it and urged the importance of a proper appropriation from Virginia and a good exhibit.

The thanks of the Association were tendered the people of Norfolk, and the Association adjourned to meet with the convention at the Opera-House at 2 o'clock.

Mistaken for a Tramp and Shot At. ROANORE, VA., Nov. 24.-[Special.]-The police of this, city are becoming overvigilant and zealous in their effort to protect the peo-ple and rid the town of numerous tramps that have of late infested it. Mr. R. C. Canady, went Sunday night to see his best girl, and as he was returning on Railroad avenue he was mistaken by Policeman Poindexter for a tramp and ordered to halt. Mr. Canady, thinking he was set upon by robbers, became greatly frightened and made off at a rapid pace. The policeman, thinking his flight suspicious, opened fire upon him and fired several shots, none of which took effect. There was considerable excitement for awhile and several people gathered to leave the cause of the shooting. Policeman learn the cause of the shooting, Policeman Poindexter declaring that he had attempted to arrest a tramp, and Mr. Canady saying he had been fired on by robbers. Learning that it was a "blue-coat" who had shot at him he was greatly incensed and procured a warrant for Poindexter's arrest. Mr. Canady has employed coursel and will push the case to the extent of the law.

Condition of General Chilton-Confederate Veterana' Day at the Exposition. North Carolina News.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 25.-[Special.]-Excitement was caused in financial circles here to-day by the receipt of the following special from Wilmington which was quickly circulated on the streets: The following notice was posted on the doors of the First National Bank this morn-

"In consequence of the stringency in financial affairs and their inability to meet further demands the directors of this bank have decided, in the interest of all concerned, to suspend business until further notice."

The officers are in the bank, every entrance to which is closed, and it is impossible now to get any statement as to the condition of its affairs. The capital stock is $220,000.

The last published statement shows deposits of $105,000. An employe of the tank, who is familiar with its affairs, has just expressed the opinion that the depositors would suffer no loss. Large crowds are gathered around the bank discussing the situation, but the excitement is of a subdued character and everything is comparatively quiet. CLIFFORD ON MINES.

The Great Advocate for Free Coinage Faces a Richmond Audience.

ELOQUENT ARDRESS ON FINANCE

Interesting Facts Regarding the Production of Gold and Silver_Object of the Speaker.

It is said that Henry B. Clifford faces more It is said that Henry B. Clifford faces more capital in the course of a year than any financial speaker living. The Richmond Theatre was crowded last night by the wealthiest of our citizens, who welcomed the great advocate of the silver dollar. If every andience he meets are as representative as the one assembled last night to hear him on the "Mines of the World" he must talk to the representatives of many millions of dollars representatives of many millions of in the course of a year. Mr. Clifford is a charming speaker, and for nearly two Mr. Clifford hours held the close attention of his audi-ence. He is a mine of information on the sliver question, well skilled in argument, and the gold advocate that meets him in discussion will have to be well versed on the subect. for he is a foeman worthy of fine steel. Mr. Clinord's object seems to be to explain the exact condition of the mining industry and to protect the investing public against the possibilities of wild-cat operations. He is very open in his explanations, and in speaking of his ravorite State, Washington, says that there are but few developed mines. He

The pairons of the mining industry should understand the different grades of mining. He should know when he is on a basis of .00 per cent, loss in developing, of 15 per cent, loss in mining, or 5 per cent, loss in smelting.

He should understand that not one prospectin 100 locations ever develop into a mine. Here fifty per cent, in the loss of mining

I do not believe there are 500 paying mines in the United States, yet our developed mines are making a product of over $100,000,000 and some of the most ver $100,000,000 and some of the most clossal fortunes of the world have been the result of legitimate mining.

He said: There is something in nature that makes man timid and weak when he has no money in his pocket; then he will scarcely resent an insult for fear of his inability to pay a fine. He walks up quiet streets, gazes wistfully into windows and his ambition is, indeed, at a low ebb. With the coming of money a new life springs into his heart, his eye brightens, his step is prepared to meet friend or foe. When a many has money then are the new treet. is prepared to meet triend or foe. When a man has money then are the moments of his greatest achievements. The power of invention is greater when the heart is light, and risks are taken that often result in material benefit to mankind that would not have been attempted. ad man's ambition been deadened by tack pride was but a scrawny tree and generosity an unspronted seed. A nation of men who do not feel the effect of money makes but slow progress. This accounts for the marvelous growth of America and the backwardness of many other nations. The more money, greater activity. I been well shown by the fact that the of trade of the world increased three fold beof trade of the world increased three fold between the years of 1848 and 1880, the periods of our greatest production of gold and silver.

Before the coming of money into the world

The nations having the largest amount of money are the most prosperous and vice versa. There is only three dollars per capita to the inhabitants of the earth, and yet there are five hundred million—souls who seldom see a coin, and where this absence of coin is felt there is misery sould and ignorance. To increase the ery, squalor and ignorance. To increase the material prosperity of a nation you must in-crease its coin, and when you limit coin you limit the march of progress. This standing good of nations who are without mines of gold and silver and are forced to exchange their choicests products for the products of the mine, then how much greater is the progress of a country that has unlimited resources of precious metal from which to create its own coin. The United States will never die from a surplus of money. The politician of our country is the national circulator. It seems to be his duty to see that the Government, shall of nations who are without mines of never hold its accumulation of surplus. We want more money, at least fifty four dollars percapita. As we now have thirty-four dollars per capita, this would give us one billion, two hundred and fifty million dollars. Our per capita would then be equal to France, the most prosperous nation in Europe. There need never be a fear of silver being a drug in the market. There is not enough of it produced. If we were to attempt to reach the amount of the French per capita we would have to coin steadily for twenty-five years four millions a mouth, and if we kept this ratio up as our population increased, we would have to absorb the total silver product of the world, for in reality there is only about eleven millions of silver per annum produced outside of North and South America, and yet over 46 per cent, of all coin is silver, and the total increased duction of silver does not make up for production of silver does not allow up to the decrease in gold.

You people of the South should be the strongestadvocates for free coinage. You have so many varied and diversified industries to develop. Money creates plenty of trade; then comes plenty of labor; then comes the true wealth, happiness, for the wealth-list ration is the happiness nation. The jest nation is the happiest nation.
